CCS CONTINUES GROWTH IN NEW ENGLAND AREA
AV Integrator Opens New Headquarters in Nashua, New Hampshire

NASHUA, N.H. – (December 21, 2010) – CCS New England, a part of one of the largest audio and visual equipment integrators in the U.S., announced today the opening of its regional headquarters in Nashua, New Hampshire. The new office is located at 132 Northeastern Boulevard and services the entire New England area including: New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Maine and Vermont.

CCS shifted operations from Chelmsford, Massachusetts along with 22 employees to expand into its nearly 26,000-square-foot headquarters location in Nashua.

The Nashua facility increases CCS' space by nearly 500 percent to accommodate additional staff, new warehousing, video conferencing and equipment training rooms along with a state-of-the-art product demonstration center.

With the latest audio visual technologies on display, such as high definition video conferencing systems, room control systems, digital signage, interactive teaching and meeting tools, projectors, digital displays, sound masking and energy management systems, CCS customers will be able to experience the latest AV technology in real life settings to determine the best possible solutions for their organization.

“Our new facility in Nashua is an ideal fit and positions us just minutes outside of Boston, allows us to develop additional business in New Hampshire and is an ideal
